

L3: Degree Distribution

The degree distribution of a given network shows the fraction of nodes with degree k .

If we think of networks as random samples from an ensemble of graphs, we can think of p_k as the probability that a node has degree k , for $k \geq 0$.

The network in this visualization has six nodes and the plot shows the empirical probability density function (which is a histogram) for the probability p_k .